

GENOCIDE IN CAMBODIA 1975–1979

The Khmer Rouge emptied towns and cities, forcing men, women and children into the countryside to work as labourers on collective farms. Deaths from execution, disease, exhaustion and starvation have been estimated at over two million people.

hmd.org.uk/chanrithy

‘I couldn’t believe that I had arrived in America. It was like a dream and I felt guilty that my parents and siblings didn’t survive.’

CHANRITHY HIM

survivor of the Genocide in Cambodia

HOW CAN LIFE GO ON?
HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL DAY 2017

