

NAZI PERSECUTION 1933-1945

Nazi racial theories fuelled their persecution of Roma, Sinti, Slavic and black people. Disabled people, gay people and political opponents were also targeted. Hundreds of thousands of lives were destroyed or changed beyond recognition because of Nazi Persecution.

‘Somehow, my family knew nothing of this story. It seemed to me as if these terrible events had been completely erased from memory.’

SIGRID FALKENSTEIN

niece of Anna Lehnkering who was murdered by the Nazis in 1940 because of her disability.
